Letter of agreement enabling data to be circulated in order to promote the contact between scholarship holders and sponsors

SRH Berlin University of Applied Sciences promotes the contact between scholarship holders and sponsors, e.g. through collective events. Scholarship holders are not obliged to use those offers to stay in touch with the sponsors. Sponsors may not expect or demand any favors from the scholarship holders as a condition to support the scholarship. Promoting the contact between sponsors and scholarship holders means possibly passing required information to the sponsor. Those data will be passed anonymously before the approval of a scholarship. For this purpose, we need your consent. The approval of a scholarship by the selection committee is based exclusively upon your ability, educational performance, achievements and personal suitability and is independent from your consent in this point.

Declaration of consent: contact to sponsors and circulation of information

- Yes, I comply with the dissemination of data to sponsors.
- No, I object to the dissemination of data.

Notes for the dissemination of data in order to avoid multiple sources of aid and for statistical purposes

The Federal Ministry of Education and Research supports universities with its own software to document the application and selection procedures for scholarships. The legal text and the process description of external data management are to be found on <https://www.deutschlandstipendium.de/>.

§ 4 StipG Preclusion of Multiple Sponsorships

As per § 4 Abs. 2 StipG the Federal Ministry of Education and Research (BMBF) takes samples to avoid multiple sponsorships. For this purpose it may collect from a university the name, first name, date of birth, address and place of study of a person who is being awarded a scholarship according to the regulations of StipG.

The BMBF may record these data and align them with those of the German Academic Exchange service, the Stiftung Begabtenförderung berufliche Bildung, scholarship systems, and other national and international organizations. Universities are obligated to the transmission of data. After the implementation of a sample, data are to be destroyed.

§ 13 StipG Statistics

As per § 13 StipG national statistics are being recorded on sponsorships according to the StipG. Annually the statistics record for the previous calendar year of each stipendiary the following characteristics covered: gender, nationality, type of intended degree, training school according to type and legal position, field of study, number of semesters, number of months sponsored and payments according to BAföG. As per § 14 Abs. 4 StipG there is an obligation to give information for the implementation of statistics. Obligated to give information are the universities. Due to those legal obligations the dissemination of your required data will take place without any separately given approval. By participating in the national scholarship program Deutschlandstipendium, you comply with the dissemination of your required data according to the preceding regulations.

I have taken note of the preceding information.
